In accordance with the four purposes, the delivery of financial education in different contexts will endeavour to support learners in developing a range of financial skills and knowledge. The development of these key skills will address the importance of learning about financial, cultural, social and learning values, and how these can be applied in everyday situations.